

HEALTH & SAFETY POLICY STATEMENT

Fortress Interlocks Ltd manufactures innovative products that are renowned for providing protection from extreme hazards in the workplace.

Scope: The design and manufacture of global interlocking systems and products for process, electrical and industrial applications.

The company recognises that the health and safety of its employees, visitors and contractors is vital to the well being of the individuals concerned and of the company as a whole.

- The consideration of health and safety is paramount to all decisions made within the company and in any way connected the design and manufacture of its products or facilities.
- The company is committed to plan and assess the Hazards inherent in running the business on an ongoing basis and eliminate or reduce those risks to acceptable levels.
- The health and safety system is facilitated by the adoption of a recognised health and safety standard: - OHSAS 18001, which is independently monitored and certified.
- The company undertakes to continually improve its health and safety system and to set an unrivalled standard of expertise within the safety interlock industry.
- The company undertakes to provide sufficient resources and personnel within the organisation to monitor, review and continually improve its health and safety system and take into account changes in working practices, legal obligations and best practice.
- In return, the company demands a high standard of care and consideration from all employees, visitors and contractors with a view to reducing the risk of accidents to a minimum at all times.
- The over-riding objective of the company is to provide a safe, secure environment for the efficient manufacture of its products.

J. Smith